

WOOL INTERESTS.

Kansas will soon become as famous for its fine sheep as is Vermont. We are not only getting the best breeds, but the best bloods of the best breeds. But we have neither woolen factories nor a home market for our wool, and our great distance from market and the high freight rates will always place us under many disadvantages in the disposition of our wool to the best advantage. We can expect no relief or help from the railroads, and the local buyers of wool are only anxious to buy the wool at the lowest possible rates. There is only one remedy for our wool-growers, and that is by a combination and concert of action that will enable them to control the entire product for its storage, shipment and sale. Last year there was a combination among some of the members of the State Wool Grower's Association. The president of the association acted as an agent. He went to Boston with a large shipment, and other lots were forwarded to him. His sales netted the producers nearly twenty-four cents, while the local buyers were giving only seventeen cents, and this was not all net to the producer.

The arrangements should be perfected before shearing time, and the winter season is the season of leisure and the best time to settle the plans for our future action. We therefore suggest that our county association meet at least once a month for the full discussion and for the adoption of some means to the end that the wool growers may realize the most from their investments. —Wichita Beacon.

BROOM CORN.

We had a talk a few days ago with Mr. John Hall, of Pawnee Rock, on the subject of broom corn; he has been engaged in the culture of this crop for a number of years, and finds that it is one of the best paying crops that Kansas affords. He has shipped this year about fifty tons, receiving from $90 to $110 per ton. A good average crop is a ton to three acres. He regards it as a sure crop here, not having failed him in the past six years. This industry alone has done much toward keeping the little town of Pawnee Rock in active life. Lured has shipped sixty or seventy car loads of this crop this season, and Garfield nine or ten. Of course it takes labor and a knowledge of the business to succeed in this, as in any other business. Like sheep-raising, one must know how to handle it to make it profitable. But there is no question that it can be made to pay far better than wheat growing, for it is almost a certain crop every year. If our farmers would investigate this subject, talk with those who are engaged in the business, and give their attention to this and other things, instead of relying so largely on wheat, they and the country would enjoy more thrift and prosperity than under the present management of their farms. —Great Bend Tribune.

MOTHERS DON'T KNOW—How many children are punished for being uncouth, wilful and indiffrent to instructions or rewards simply because they are out of health. An intelligent lady said of a child of this kind: "Mothers should know that if they would give the little ones moderate doses of Hop Bitters for two or three weeks the children would be all a parent could desire."

Many lose their beauty from the hair falling or fading. Parker's Hair Balsam supplies necessary nourishment, prevents falling and grayness and is an elegant dressing.

FOUR PAPERS, 1 YEAR, FOR $4.

Under arrangements with the publishers we are enabled to give four papers, for one year, for $4 00. This is two dollars less than the regular subscription price. For $4 we will send you one year the DODGE CITY TIMES, LEAVENWORTH WEEKLY TIMES, KANSAS CITY COMMERCIAL INDICATOR and KANSAS FARMER. A reduction on the regular subscription price of each one enables us to offer these low terms. With these four papers a subscriber has a variety of interesting reading matter, embracing the general news of the day, stock notes, commercial and financial reports, notes on agriculture and stock raising. The cattle and the sheep grower and the farmer will be benefited by these four publications, which will keep him supplied with winter reading, and on topics he is greatly interested in. We shall keep this offer standing for a short time only, and trust new and old subscribers will avail themselves of the opportunity to secure a variety of interesting reading matter at a comparatively small cost. Cash in advance must accompany the subscription. All subscriptions must be addressed to the TIMES, Dodge City, Kas.

PROSPECTUSOF
The Globe-Democrat.

In its prospectus for 1881 the GLOBE-DEMOCRAT announced with pride and satisfaction the election of Gen. Garfield and the belief that his administration would be so wisely counseled and so well conducted that it would give a new lease of power to the party under which the nation had grown free, strong and prosperous. The vile hand of an assassin has since stricken down the good and gifted man who, while we wrote a year ago, stood on the threshold of the Presidential office, in the prime and vigor of manhood, with a future full of honorable promises to himself and his country. The high trust which the people had reposed in him was dropped by the pulsed hand of death when but a small part of the great work upon which he had entered had been accomplished. But to quote his own memorial he wrote when the saddest of all American tragedies was enacted, nearly seventeen years ago, "God reigns, and the Government at Washington still lives."

The mantle which was voted to James A. Garfield by the people falls upon Chester A. Arthur under the Constitution of the United States, and there is every reason to believe that he will worthily wear it. He was almost the unanimous choice of the Chicago convention for Vice President, and his name and efforts contributed more than anything else to the success of the Republican ticket in the State of New York. He is a man of broad views, fully instructed in all public questions, and his efforts upon the duties of his office determined to discharge them honestly and conscientiously. The GLOBE-DEMOCRAT pledges him its cordial support in every good word and work for the country and for the Republican party. We hope and believe that under his prudent and skillful leadership the evil spirit of faction will disappear from the ranks of the party, and that unity and aim will prevail to all its course. This end once secured, there can be no doubt of future success. A large majority of the people of this country are Republicans in sentiment and sympathy, and no thing but internal discord can check our triumph at the polls while the choice is between Republicanism and Democracy.

The GLOBE-DEMOCRAT has no new declaration of principles to announce. It can carry out its program as to the future from the program of the past. It stands firmly by the platform of the party on all national questions, believing in the equal rights of all men in law and politics; a sound currency with an honest silver dollar for part of it; a well-regulated tariff, giving protection without encouraging monopoly, and a system of popular education, so liberal that ignorance and illiteracy shall be hereditary. These are the main questions upon which the two great parties are now divided; the Democrats oppose and the Republicans affirm as to each of the propositions we have named.

While fully appreciating the magnitude of national issues, the GLOBE-DEMOCRAT will not be unmindful of the importance of questions which affect the West, and especially the State of Missouri. Among these is immigration. We wish to do all we possibly can to encourage European seeking a home on this side of the Atlantic to re-estate the claims of this great state—its fine climate, its fertile soil, and its great mineral resources. Everything is good to us except political domination. American Democracy is the one of immigration in Missouri, as it always has been in Kentucky, and in other States. A Republican victory in the State would do more to encourage the best class of immigrants to come within our borders than can be accomplished in any other way, or through any other agency. The leaves are working, and we have faith in its success within a few years. In the meantime we do not forget that while Republicanism is a help to immigration, immigration is also a help to Republicanism. The better farmers of the Eastern States who move West in pursuit of more land to meet the necessities of a growing family are not Bourbon Democrats; and the industrious workmen who come here for homes and jobs will soon learn to choose rightly between the two parties.

As a newspaper the Globe-Democrat will hold the pre-eminence which it has already gained. It will present in all its editions a full and faithful record of current events. Its facilities are unrivaled. No other newspaper East or West has a larger corps of active and intelligent correspondents in all sections of the country and the world. We spare neither energy nor expense in the collection of news, as our columns from day to day abundantly show.

Our weekly issue is made up from the most valuable of the contents of seven daily issues, carefully selected and edited with a view to completeness and timeliness. It has, as special features, the fullest and best market reports from all the business centers of the world; the choicest of current literature for the family and the school; and a well-edited Agricultural Department of great value to the farmer.
